

From Horror to

Hope

A Survivor's Story

In August 2008, Michelle Major's husband tried to murder her. Before he strangled her unconscious, he took a butcher knife to 94 of her paintings, destroying 12 years of artistic work. Michelle will share her story, shining a bright light on the taboo topic of domestic violence.

Wednesday, February 25

10:00 a.m.

Mayes Pit/Cohn Auditorium
Wilkes Community College

Part of the 20th annual Clothesline Project presented by SAFE, Inc. and Wilkes Community College.