outside the warehouse with Detective James Magovern before they entered it about 9:45 p.m. Some 20 police officers and five prosecutor's investigators conducted the raid.

Shawn L. Burningham, 31, of Toronto is believed to have run the fight, at which authorities confiscated more than $30,000 in gambling proceeds. Police believe he was at the fight but escaped arrest.

Four pit bulls were seized at the scene. Two were fighting in a makeshift "pit" set up on the second floor of the warehouse. They had to be euthanized Sunday because of their injuries, Herkert said.

One other adult dog and a puppy that may have been for sale at the event were being kept yesterday at Dover Township's Animal Facility, police said.

The majority of people arrested, who police said paid $20 admission each, were charged with one count of criminal trespass, one count of being present at a dogfight and one count of gambling on it.

Police said all three charges are third-degree crimes, with a maximum jail term of five years. The dog-fighting charges have a $15,000 maximum fine, Herkert said.

Police also have charged Burningham and Russell Foster with organizing a dogfight, also ative Assistant Prosecutor Gregory J. Sakowicz said yesterday.

When they entered the building, police found a 15-foot by 15-foot "pit" with wooden sides about 2½ to 3 feet high, Herkert said. The sides of the wooden pit, which was being kept yesterday behind Dover police headquarters on Oak Avenue, were stained with blood, Dorick said.

Police said spectators were seated in chairs, with coolers filled with food and drinks. Some reportedly attempted to flee.

Authorities described those who attended Saturday's dogfight as "people of means who drove expensive vehicles and bet significant amounts of money."

Authorities plan to take action to seize the more than $30,000 in alleged gambling proceeds.

Dover Detective Magovern is the lead investigator, assisted by Herkert and Dorick, along with Lt. Robert Urie of the Prosecutor's Office, Detective Joseph Ponzante of the Sheriff's Department's Criminal Investigations Unit and Lt. Armondo Cocci of the Sheriff's Department.

Anyone with information about Shawn Burningham's whereabouts should contact Magovern at (732) 349-0150, Ext. 7244 or Ext. 7240, or at detectives@dovertwpolice.com via e-mail.

The following people were charged with one count each of criminal trespass, one count of being present at a dogfight and one count of gambling on the outcome of a dogfight:

Vigil B. Adson, 42, Placerville, N.J.; Tim Christopher Banks, 32, Fort Washington, Md.; Kevin Michael Bradshaw, 28, Camden; Robert Joseph Brown, 27, Waldorf, Md.; Keasha Annise Bullock, 32, Landover, Md.; and Lawrence Carter, 30, Philadelphia.

Pallone calls on Matawan to fix erosion problem

Congressman joins Democratic council candidates in tour of Oak Knoll Drive and Angelica Court.

By RODNEY POINT-DU-JOUR
STAFF WRITER

MATAWAN — Oak Knoll Drive and Angelica Court residents Tuesday were joined by a congressman who urged borough officials to fix a soil erosion problem they say could destroy homes along those streets.

Rep. Frank J. Pallone Jr., D-N.J., joined Democratic Borough Council candidates Rob Steinman and Robert Orlowski in accusing the borough of ignoring the residents' plea for help during a tour of Angelica Court.

Mayor Robert D. Clifton, who said he wasn't aware of an erosion problem at Angelica Court, said the council has assisted the Oak Knoll Drive residents in the past by looking for grants to fix the problem, and will continue to do so.

After Tropical Storm Floyd hit the borough in 1999, flooding caused a loosening of the soil within the Oak Knoll Drive development, making the ground unstable.

Republican Councilman Joseph J. Pennipede, who is seeking re-election along with Councilwoman Sharon Roselli, said Orlowski and Steinman, who are also Oak Knoll Drive residents, are "grandstanding in a desperate attempt to draw votes."

There are two open seats on the council, which is made up of six Republican members and a Republican mayor.

Pallone, who promised he would investigate the availability of federal grants to help fix the problem, said borough officials poorly planned the construction of the two developments.

"They're not reviewing their land use ordinances," Pallone said. "These homes were built without the proper consideration for the wetlands in this area."

Roselli said when the applications were approved for the Oak

Knoll Drive and Angelica Court developments the Borough Council and Planning Board were controlled by Democrats.

"I suggest that Pallone do his homework and research who was in control during the planning and zoning of Angelica Court," Roselli said.

Before Tropical Storm Floyd flooded the Oak Knoll development in 1999, the Planning Board approved construction on a site that didn't have enough stability to support development, Orlowski said.

"I'm surprised that no one on the council has taken the time to speak with the people here," said Orlowski, of the 3-year-old housing development along Angelica Court where a similar erosion problem has been revealed.

Devsh Patel, 38, of Angelica Court, said he started noticing his back yard was sloping a year after he bought his property three years ago.

"There is definitely an erosion problem in my back yard," said Patel, adding that there are at least 10 other properties that are suffering from the same problem.

Man pleads guilty in dogfight

By KRISTEN OSTENDORF
TOMS RIVER BUREAU

TOMS RIVER — One man has pleaded guilty and seven others have been admitted to a court intervention program in connection with a raid on an organized dogfight in which 43 people were arrested.

Dwight Reyna, 29, Jersey City, entered a guilty plea to the charge of cruelty to animals before Superior Court Judge Peter J. Giovine Tuesday. He is the first defendant to plead guilty to charges stemming from the Oct. 27, 2001, dogfight at a warehouse along Route 9 in Dover Township.

He was among those charged with paying admission and attending the illegal fight, according to a June indictment.

Reyna could face up to five years in prison, but as part of the plea agreement prosecutors have agreed to recommend a probationary sentence.

Executive Assistant Prosecutor Gregory J. Sakowicz declined to say what methodology was being used to resolve the charges until authorities have finished reviewing the cases against all the defendants.

A tip from the animal-rights group People for the Ethical Treatment of Animals led police to raid the warehouse, authorities said at the time. Police have said the owner of the warehouse was not aware of the fight, and he was not charged.

Authorities have said they confiscated more than $30,000 in gambling money that day. Four pit bulls were euthanized because of their injuries, and a fifth dog and a puppy that may have been for sale at the fight were taken in by Dover Township's Animal Facility. Police also reported seeing a 15-by-15-foot pit stained with blood.

Seven defendants have been admitted to the Pre-Trial Intervention program, and court records show others intend to apply or are in the process of applying. Should they comply with the program's conditions — which can include fines, penalties and drug screening — the charges against them could eventually be dismissed.

Those who have been admitted to the program so far, according to court records, include: Ivan A. Taveras, 23, Perth Amboy; Ashkean Garman, 28, Ashburn, Va.; John W. Cossa, 33, Surfside, S.C.; Robert J. Brown, 38, Lancaster Circle, Md.; Stoney S. Greene, 25, Purler, N.C.; Manuel Lago, 29, Newark; and Scott W. Miller, 30, Millers Creek, N.C.

Charges against the remaining defendants are still pending.

Authorities are still searching for several people charged in the indictment. They include: Donward Suber, 42, Oxon Hill, Md.; Keesha A. Bullock, 33, Landover, Md.; Nesto Crespo, 31, Plainfield; and Shawn L. Burningham, 33, Toronto, Canada.

The indictment alleges that Russell J. Foster, 26, Dover Township, and William E. Monaco, 33, Wappingers Falls, N.Y., charged people admission to the fight. It also charges Foster, Monaco, Paris B. Dickerson, 35, and Burningham with keeping or training animals used in the fight and organizing it. The indictment also accuses Dickerson and Burningham with gambling on the outcome of the fight.

Kristen Ostendorf: (732) 557-5732 or kristenoi@app.com

On October 31, 2002, it was reported that Stoney Greene had been admitted to a Pre-Trial Intervention Program; an "alternative to the traditional criminal justice process of ordinary prosecution"

I've also seen 1xGL which would be 1-time game loser. And DG is dead game. OTC is off-the-chain, which would be like an "informal" bout where the dog isn't put through a keep beforehand.

Importance of Dogs Pedigrees in Dogfighting

Pedigrees are essential to dogfighters because they show the dog's parents, bloodlines, and any titling after their names. It is a dog's family tree. The Sire (stud dog) is always listed on the top of a pedigree with his parents and their parents going back seven generations. The Dam (mother dog) is always listed on the bottom of the pedigree with the same listing of generations.

Dogfighters typically use a particular type of bloodline(s) in their breeding program and kennels. Pedigrees show the dog's bloodlines and have been crossed with another kind of bloodline that may not work with their kennel stock. Pedigrees also show if the dog comes from a winning line in the dogfighting world, a dogfighter's goal. Any title after their name increases the dogfighter's credibility and the value of the dogs and their offspring.

Example:

CH Garner's CHINAMAN (4XW) ROM

Owner: Tom Garner

The dog is a Champion (CH) and a 4XW – this means he has won four contracted matches. He is also a Register of Merit (ROM). Each dog is credited with one point for each champion produced and one additional point for each of these champions who goes on to win a grand championship. A male dog must be the Sire (father) of at least four champions to get on the list, and a female must be the Dam (mother) of at least three champions. ROM is only used in dogfighting and is a method of tracking a dog's fight history.

This information was provided by Janette Reeve, Animal Crimes and Investigations Program Manager for Humane Society of the United States

The acronym "ROM" is only used in dogfighting, and refers to a male dog that has sired at least 4 Champions or a female dog that has mothered at least 3 Champions

CH KILLER KLOWN'S JUSTICE (POR)

http://www.apbt.online-pedigrees.com/modules.php?name=Public&file=printPedigree&dog_id=129275

How Champion Justice came about. I was looking to by a bitch from proven winners and possibly a winner herself. I heard STP Kennels had some dogs for sale so I then purchased STP's Ch. BB. She was off of Gr.Ch. Buck bred to Ch. Bonnie. When I got her home it did not take long before she came into her heat cycle so I could go ahead with my plans to breed her to my 2x winner Boomer who was out of STP's Miss Rage bred to STP's Ch. Black Pazmanian. The Sire of Champion Justice was a full belly mate brother to the Ch. Black Pazmanian Jr. dog. When Justice was around two years old I decided to give him a good roll, he showed good in his roll and I then put his weight out at 41 pounds and the Can-Am boys picked the weight up. I got wind of the word going around that Justice was not going to make it past the 20 minute as the Can-Am boys were bringing a hard-driving, biting stifle and should dog. Once the Ref said "release your dogs" Hondo the Can-Am boy's dog went straight for the Stifle and was working it until Justice picked him off by the nose and it turned out Justice was biting just as hard putting bleeder's into Hondo's mouth and snout. The show went to the 1:07 mark and Justice was declared a 1x winner that evening screaming in the corner for more. Justice's second match was into a dog named Pushrod that came from Rollbar Kennels handled by Red. The weight was set at 42 pounds. Pushrod was the dog that was to end Justice's career. As it turned out it ended up a real good fight but it was not Justice whose career was ended. As said it turned out to be a hell of a Dog Fight, both dogs biting hard maneuvering to get the upper hand. The first turn was called around the 1:35 mark into the fight. This should give the readers an idea of what kind of fight this was. Around the 1:45 mark Pushrod started to fade fast and both dogs were still scratching hard. I knew Pushrod was dying and I suggested they pick Pushrod up to try and save him, but they wanted nothing to do with it. As the fight went with Pushrod doing some game scratches they decide to pick up at 2:22 with Pushrod doing a deadgame courtesy scratch. All the while Justice was still screaming in his corner for more action. It is too bad Pushrod died moments after the scratch because they lost a great dog and I wish I had owned him. This was number two for Justice.

STP's CH BB

I put Justice's weight out again and it took almost a year and half to get him hooked. I tried hooking Justice into a Champion or Grand Champion but it did not end up this way. My friend The Cuban Cowboy gave me a call saying there is a dog in Florida nobody wants to fight named Eli a three time winner at 41 ½ pounds. I took the fight and we met half way. This fight ended up to be pretty good also, with Eli working the face and Justice working the bottom jaw, front end and legs. The fight ended with Eli taking the count at 2:08, and once again Justice is screaming for more. Giving Justice the new title Champion Justice. In closing

I would like to say: A lot of people thought Champion Justice wasn't able to bite hard but I always told them "Don't let his times fool you, ask people who know me as I always look for the best opponents and dogs with some sort of reputation". Champion Justice does have some winners on the ground now and it looks like he is going to be able to produce well.

Yours in Sport
Shawn B.

Describes in detail the fight in which Justice won in 1:07 against "Hondo", then in the second fight Justice killed the dog "Pushrod" in 2:22.

The third fight was 1 1/2 years later against "Eli", which Justice won by "working the bottom jaw, front end and legs". The fight ended "with Eli taking the count" at 2:08, "giving Justice the new title Champion Justice".

2022 North Carolina General Statutes

Chapter 14 - Criminal Law

Article 47 - Cruelty to Animals.

§ 14-362.2 - Dog fighting and baiting.

Universal Citation: NC Gen Stat § 14-362.2 (2022)

< Previous

Next >

14-362.2. Dog fighting and baiting.

(a) A person who instigates, promotes, conducts, is employed at, provides a dog for, allows property under the person's ownership or control to be used for, gambles on, or profits from an exhibition featuring the baiting of a dog or the fighting of a dog with another dog or with another animal is guilty of a Class H felony. A lease of property that is used or is intended to be used for an exhibition featuring the baiting of a dog or the fighting of a dog with another dog or with another animal is void, and a lessor who knows this use is made or is intended to be made of the lessor's property is under a duty to evict the lessee immediately.

(b) A person who owns, possesses, or trains a dog with the intent that the dog be used in an exhibition featuring the baiting of that dog or the fighting of that dog with another dog or with another animal is guilty of a Class H felony.

(c) A person who participates as a spectator at an exhibition featuring the baiting of a dog or the fighting of a dog with another dog or with another animal is guilty of a Class H felony.

(d) This section does not prohibit the use of dogs in the lawful taking of animals under the jurisdiction and regulation of the Wildlife Resources Commission.

(e) This section does not prohibit the use of dogs in earthdog trials that are sanctioned or sponsored by entities approved by the Commissioner of Agriculture that meet standards that protect the health and safety of the dogs. Quarry at an earthdog trial shall at all times be kept separate from the dogs by a sturdy barrier, such as a cage, and have access to food and water.

(f) This section does not apply to the use of herding dogs engaged in the working of domesticated livestock for agricultural, entertainment, or sporting purposes. (1997-78, s. 1; 2006-113, s. 3.1; 2006-259, s. 37; 2007-180, s. 1; 2007-181, s. 1.)

It is a Class H felony to fight a dog in a competition, and a Class H felony to provide a dog to be fought in a competition.

The information provided here shows that Stoney Greene has been directly involved in at least 9 pit fights, and has provided at least 36 offspring to be fought in competitions.

The minimum sentence for each Class H felony is 4 months in prison, and the maximum is 25 months

There are no statutes of limitations on felonies in North Carolina
